Information has been received at the United States Hydrographic Office from Captain R. McGrath of the British bark Altair that on April 24, 1889, he passed close by Minto reef, Caroline Islands, North Pacific Ocean. On the Western extreme was a dry sand patch about a quarter of a mile in extent. Inside this patch there seemed to be deep water, but no clear passage leading into it. The eastern end of the reef was breaking heavily.
The bark John and Winthrop, Captain Killman, a tender to the Pacific Whaling Company's fleet in the Arctic, arrived at San Francisco, Sept. 10th, after a passage of forty-eight days from Port Clarence. From one of the crew it was learned that the whalers were unable to enter the Artic on account of the heavy ice. When the bark entered the heads she flew the police and whaling flags. The John and Winthrop brought down a cargo of $200,000, mostly taken from the steam whalers. It included 290 packages whalebone, 9083 gallons whale oil, 18 packages ivory, 33 packages whale oil, 2 packages fox skins and 2 packages of other skins.—[S. F. Call.]

PERILOUS BALLOONING.

A Boy Carried Upward by a Rope Around His Neck.
PORTLAND (Or.), September 8.—At a hot-air balloon ascension in this city today an incident occurred that filled the hearts of 2,000 spectators with horror. A long rope by which the aeronaut expected to ascend hand over hand to the trapeze, caught in a half hitch around the neck of Eddie Hall, a boy aged twelve, and carried him swiftly up. The aeronaut could not help him, for his weight on the rope would have choked the boy to death.
For full a minute the crowd stood speechless, the almost breathless silence being broken only by the encouraging shouts of the aeronaut to the lad, telling him to hold on and climb into the trapeze and he would come down all right. The lad, with rare presence of mind, did as directed, and, seven minutes later, when the balloon had cooled sufficiently, the lad came down in perfect safety about a mile away from the place of his ascension. Several had followed the balloon in buggies, and within twenty minutes from the time he so suddenly left the earth he was back again at the same spot, the hero of the hour, the observed of all observers.

THE FOREIGN SUGAR MARKET.

From Williams, Dimond & Co.'s Circular of September 13, 1889, we extract the following:

SUGAR.—The price list of the local Refineries continued unchanged until the 28th ult., when the California Refinery advanced their list on whites 1/4 c. per lb. The American has made no change.

Our latest mail advices from New York of the 7th inst. state that there is a good demand for raws, and considerable quantity of stock has been sold both to local as well as Philadelphia buyers on the basis of 5 1/2 c. for 96 test, Muscovados, and 6 1/2 c. for 96 test Centrifugals. Buyers are ready to secure still further supplies at the same prices. These prices represent a fair adjustment of values on basis of actual sales and compare favorably with the parity of other markets. There is a steady demand for refined.

The firmer feeling reflected from Europe has established renewed confidence in the future course of trade. Reports from producing countries regarding growing crops are on the whole favorable and fair yields generally are expected with few exceptions.

Total stock in all the principal countries August 1st was 482,807 tons, against 553,831 tons same time in 1888.

Stock at four ports U. K. August 31st 135,871 tons, against 232,737 tons last year.

Our latest telegram from New York to-day gives London quotations for Beets 88 test 14.6. Value of Cuba Centrifugals 96 test 6 1/2 c. (Still later, 14th, the price was quoted 6.50.) New York and Foreign markets strong and advancing. Holders in New York demand an advance, but buyers do not respond. Prospects good and present prices are likely to be maintained. Beet crops promise fairly, but late. The present cane crop is estimated at equal to the last crop. Trust certificates were sold September 11th at 109 3/4.

RICE.—Price of island rice advanced after date of our last circular to 4 1/2 c. for choice; but shortly after, owing to free arrivals, declined again to 4 1/4 c., less 1/2 c. per cent. cash, which price we quote to-day. For inferior qualities, a proper allowance would have to be made.

FLOUR.—G. G. Ex. Fam. $4.50 per bbl. f.o.b. Crown $4.45 per bbl. f.o.b. BARRY—No. 1 feed 72 c. @ 77 1/2 c. per cbl. Minor qualities can be had at much less. No. 1 grd. or rolled $14.75 per ton f.o.b.

BEAN—Large quantities $13 per ton f.o.b.

OATS—Good feed $1.20, choice $1.30 per cbl. f.o.b.

WHEAT—$1.30 per cbl. f.o.b.

HAY—Choice comp. wheat and oats $11.50 @ $12 per ton f.o.b. Large bales $11 @ $12.

LIME—1. X. L. $1.40; other brands $1.30 per bbl. f.o.b.

CHARTERS.—Since our last, wheat freights have been dull and declining, and to-day we quote small iron 38, 24, large 35, U. K. Havre or Antwerp, while wood has been closed the past week at 30s., same range. We have in port disengaged to-day 23,000 tons, a small supply, but the loading fleet filling up slowly and wheat being weak in Europe, charterers are averse to taking much tonnage even at ruling rates. Nothing doing in tonnage to arrive. Owners view 37s. 6d. U. K., Havre or Antwerp, while charterers will not take over 35s.

MASS MEETING COMMITTEE.

They Call Upon His Majesty and Present the Resolution.

An extra addition of the Ka Leo o ka Lahui was published on Friday evening, which contained the following:

The committee selected by the mass meeting last evening, waited upon His Majesty this morning, at 11 o'clock, at the Palace, and was escorted by Mr. James W. Robertson, His Majesty's vice-Chamberlain, and was cordially received by him. Mr. Rosa, the chairman of the committee, addressed His Majesty as follows:

This committee of which he had the honor to be chairman, had come to present to His Majesty a Resolution passed at a mass meeting, held last evening in Honolulu, wherein they respectfully pray, that His Majesty withhold his Royal assent to a Treaty, which they are advised had been presented for his consideration and action, and to submit the matter to popular vote. That the people through their committee have felt it their duty to call such meeting to discuss the matter and to approach His Majesty in the form provided by the Constitution.

They felt that the native people had been deprived of some of their rights under the new Constitution granted by His Majesty, and that it was time they would protect constitutionality to any further encroachment upon their rights without being heard; that they believed were it not for the rumors afloat in regard to said treaty, the King's signature might have been obtained and it would have gone forth to the world as the sentiments of the Hawaiian people which assured His Majesty, that they desired through the King to be heard, and he believed that the whole native population and a great majority of the foreigners would conceive with the views of the mass meeting as above expressed. He hoped that the King would be firm and be jealous of the feelings and rights of the people, as they have but few of them left.

He then read the resolution and handed it to him and expressed a sincere hope that he would submit the matter to his Cabinet and by them submitted to the people.

His Majesty graciously responded and further stated, that he would take the matter under advisement. That he was pleased to see his people taking a warm interest in the welfare of their country and the protection of their independence. We are pleased to state that the address of Mr. Rosa was very impressively and feelingly delivered. The committee then took leave of His Majesty and waited in a body upon His Excellency Samuel M. Damon, who received them most cordially. Mr. Rosa informed Mr. Damon that the committee had presented to His Majesty the resolution referred to, and asked that it be allowed to present to the whole Cabinet, and the Cabinet name a time and place to meet said committee for that purpose. Mr. Damon set Monday next, at 5 o'clock p. m., at Aliioli Hale.
